Preparing Little Learners for Preschool

Starting preschool, Pre-K, or Head Start is an exciting milestone. Building routines, encouraging communication, and practicing simple self-help skills can help children feel more confident and ready to participate in the classroom. Remember, every child develops at their own pace, and support is available when needed.

Spotlight on Awareness

Children's Eye Health & Safety Month

Healthy vision supports learning, play, and development. Routine eye exams can help identify concerns early.

National Back-to-School Month

Establishing consistent routines before preschool begins can help children feel confident, secure, and ready for a successful start.
